01.

A Current Need

Nowadays, manufacturers are producing a great variety of models that are beautiful and sensual, but do not consider the main function of a bra: to support the breasts. Such function has not been the priority of designers and manufacturers. Though it continues being a need for every woman, it has not been satisfied yet. For this reason, Ardyss created: Angel Bra.

Angel Bra is specially designed to reshape the breasts, enhance the natural beauty and protect the back by favoring a correct posture and weight distribution.

A Special Bra

When using a conventional bra, your shoulders support 100% of the weight of your breasts. With Angel Bra, they only support 25% since the suspension system supports the remaining 75%.

Angel Bra reduces the load of the shoulders and relaxes the muscles to prevent contractures and pain. It also favors the correct posture of the spinal column.

Angel Bra is an internationally acknowledged haute couture garment. It is manufactured according to the highest quality standards regarding materials, tailoring and finish in order to provide safety and comfort.

Ardyss has scientifically designed garments for every need, achieving a new concept in reshaping.

Ardyss does not promise miracles, it guarantees benefits.

03. Ardyss Guarantee

04. Since time immemorial

The idea of body reshaping has existed since time immemorial. To resemble an esthetic model of beauty has always been a human obsession.

Regarding the breasts, there have existed a number of different resources to support them: fabrics to cover the area and cloths to hide and support them.

Human creativity has made use of a variety of techniques that, although they seemed unlikely, achieved the expected results.

05. A garment with a long history

The first bras were manufactured in order to meet a need of every woman: prevent breasts deformation so as to keep them healthy and beautiful no matter the effects of time and gravity.

In 1945 natural or very light synthetic fabrics were used. The first collection of bras was presented in France in 1956. Nevertheless, in 1955, French companies had already produced 2.355.000 more bras than in 1954.

Since 1954 the bras have experienced modifications and improvements. However, as the manufacturing improved, the industry of bras started to relegate the main objective of the garment: "Support the breasts, prevent deformation and keep them healthy."
